Spring into Assessments

A message from Superintendent Fisher

Each spring, students across New York State participate in grade three through grade eight assessments in the content areas of English Language Arts (ELA) and Mathematics. The assessment period for English Language Arts is March 29th- April 1st and April 26th-April 29th is the testing window for Mathematics. All students in grades 3-8 will be participating in computer-based testing (CBT) for both exams again this year. Given our 1:1 initiative for Chromebook devices, coupled with the fact that the district has offered CBT testing since 2017, our students are well-versed with the expectations of computer-based testing for both ELA and Math. Classroom teachers have also been preparing students with practice and by reviewing testing strategies. Field testing has also provided an additional opportunity for students to interact with the platform.

As a reminder, the New York State test results are intended to provide districts with valuable information about individual areas of academic strength as well as areas that a student may need greater support with. Performance on the state tests do not affect students' report card grades.

Last year, NCS had a strong participation rate with 93% of students in grades 3-8 taking the math test and 96% of students in grades 3-8 taking the English Language Arts test. I am hopeful for continued high participation rates for this school year!

NO SCHOOL

April 15th
(Good Friday)

April 18-22nd
(Spring Recess)

How can you help your child prepare for the exams? One way is to encourage them to get a good night's sleep each night before the tests. Eating a good breakfast on the morning of the tests also helps to ensure that students are ready to give their best effort.

Growing the Future of NCS' Elementary Experience

NCS' vision, mission and goals are the driving force behind a district initiative to enhance experiences at the elementary level as well as grow enrollment. Supported by the Board of Education and in collaboration with parents, students, teachers, administrators, and True North Leaders, NCS is committed to the elementary school's sustainability as well as the continuous educational improvement for all students in the school community.

The three pronged approach for the elementary school focuses on continuing our current practice with internal collaborations to enhance teaching and learning. Such collaborations at NCS include curriculum integration across different grade levels and across different subject areas. Examples of these cross curricular experiences that are currently taking place include the K-12 STEAM and student club experience as well as social-emotional collaborations through peer mentoring with academics, student representatives participating on various school committees and the district K-12 school-wide TREK excursions each quarter throughout the school year. Continuing to enhance internal collaborations is one way to keep teaching and learning rich for students at the elementary level and for all students at NCS.

Extending experiences for students beyond the walls of NCS through inter-school collaborations represent another avenue for growing our program opportunities at the elementary level. Currently the district collaborates with other schools in the True North Consortium. The True North Consortium consists of eight school districts in the north country. They are as follows: Newcomb CSD, Minerva CSD, Indian Lake CSD, Long Lake CSD, Johnsburg CSD, Schroon Lake CSD, North Warren CSD and Warrensburg CSD. Examples of current collaborations with the True North include, but are not limited to the following:

- Chief School Officer collaborations
- Transportations agreements
- Shared professional development experiences
- Assemblies, prom and field trips with other True North Schools

Building upon these experiences to include collaborations across grade levels or among multi-grade levels both in-person and virtually on a regular basis can enhance the learning experience and opportunities for both students and teachers.

Beginning in the 2022-2023 school year, students in grades K-2 will participate in academic and/or social-emotional learning experiences with students in the Minerva Central School District, Indian Lake Central School District and Long Lake Central School district. Work is already underway with K-2 teachers networking and developing what this programming will look like!

Growing the future of NCS' elementary experience also includes real-world collaborations and experiences. Experiential learning, in the heart of the Adirondack Park can align with New York State's Next Generation Learning Standards. Lessons may take place in the natural world or in virtual spaces where students are interacting with and exploring their environment to solve problems, make predictions and solidify connections. These real-life experiences represent the very essence of curricular relevance.

This spring, K-2 teachers will begin exploring the concept of experiential learning through visitations and observations in both public and private schools to learn more about supporting the academic, mental, social and physical health of our youngest learners. As a small school located in the heart of the Adirondack Park, we have a unique opportunity to grow the future of the elementary experience for every student at NCS.

It was once said that, “Mathematics gives us hope that every problem has a solution.” Finding the solution and understanding the process to getting to the answer isn’t always an easy task when it comes to math. If you are a current student, or an alumni of NCS, and you were lucky enough to have Mr. Edward LaCourse as your math teacher you know that you were taught by one of the best.

Thirty nine years in the field of education has placed Mr. LaCourse as the main part of the “equation” to student success in math. With a true passion for his craft, he has the unique ability to infuse humor and build connections to real-life so that math comes alive.

An icon in the NCS school community, Mr. LaCourse has left a lasting imprint on the lives of students and staff members alike. On behalf of the Newcomb Central School District Board of Education, faculty, staff and student body, we extend our wishes for a long, happy and healthy retirement. We are also super curious to know the final answer to this trivia question...

”What are Mr. LaCourse’s top three activities in retirement?”

2022 Teen Excellence Award

The Teen Excellence Award identifies outstanding local juniors and seniors who have demonstrated personal growth, leadership and innovation along with a commitment to their communities. NCS is proud to highlight senior Brayden Bush for being selected as an area recipient of the 2022 Teen Excellence Award. Congratulations Brayden!

1st Place Coloring Contest Winner!

Congratulations to Ellie Lamphear who won first place in the Fidelis Coloring Contest! Each student in the class was recognized with a prize for their coloring submission as well as a large Crayola marker set for the classroom.

Newcomb and Minerva Unite for Superintendent's Day

A message from Director Curriculum & Instruction, PJ Motsiff

I love March because it is the month that we celebrate Dr. Seuss (pronounced soice like in voice). His writing makes all of us smile! A big reason for this is because his books are simply fun to read, with their rhyming phrases, made-up words, and quirky illustrations. However, another reason they've continued to be popular is that teachers, librarians, and parents all agree his books teach important social-emotional lessons.

Our recent Superintendent's Day was held in Minerva in order for our schools to take advantage of having a "live" presenter work with us from WSWHE BOCES. The topic was a request by the staff because they see many students struggling socially and emotionally in their classrooms. The day provided our staff with some tools they can use immediately to create welcoming and affirming environments while supporting high expectations and academic rigor for students.

Think back to when you attended school. I bet you remember some very powerful moments when teachers said something good or bad, that has left an everlasting impression on you. Today, more than ever, teachers must communicate with finesse and clarity to address issues and challenges facing our students. Reports suggest that anxiety and depression in teens has doubled since the start of the pandemic.

This mental health crisis is creating a major shift in education by integrating social and emotional programs and strategies into the normal class schedule. This trend will necessitate that educators improve their capabilities in helping students develop competencies like self-awareness, self-management, social awareness, altruism, risk-taking, gratitude, relationship skills, and responsible decision-making.

NCS could not have a more amazing staff that does their best every day in connecting with students by going well beyond the basics of reading, writing and arithmetic.

NCS Elementary Library celebrates Dr. Suess and Read Across America Day

We welcomed special guest readers into the library to celebrate Read Across America Day. Our guests read with us and then Mr. Motsiff and Gavin Fifield made Cat in the Hat hats with the Kindergarteners. After reading Bartholomew and the Ooblick, the first and second graders made "Ooblek" with Mrs. Fisher. We had a great time. Thank you to our guests for joining us.

The 8th graders joined the first and second graders to celebrate Read Across America Day. They chose reading buddies and read to them. The 8th graders created related activities to do after reading the books. We had a fun time together. Thank you for visiting the Elementary Library again!

The Class Of 2022 is still collecting bottles and cans through the month of May. Cans can be dropped off at the garage behind the school or call Lanette Chase @ 518-582-3659 to arrange for the class to pick up your donation.

The Class still has Maple Syrup for sale, if interested call Lanette for pricing.

As always , the class is appreciative of all the community support we receive from everyone.

“A” Maple Syrup Experience

Students in Mr. Gazaille's Adirondack Technologies class have been busy tapping maple trees and processing the sap. Students have had the experience of using a real evaporator to produce some very high quality grade "A" maple syrup. Of course, the best part of the whole process is the taste testing.

TRIP 2022

After two years of the Pandemic and online projects, TRIP is back in its traditional form! This year's Thesis Research Projects (TRIP) will kick-off the first week in April with students in grades 7-12 choosing topics that align with the STEAM disciplines - science, technology, engineering, the arts and math. High school students will explore their topics and settle on a controversial issue. They will research through the month and prepare a formal argument paper and persuasive presentation for May. Middle school students will research information to prepare an expository paper and presentation.

We hope everyone will join us in encouraging our students as they work through TRIP!

Youth And Government

Our Youth and Government Club just returned from an exceptional state conference. Newcomb had nine students travel to Albany to model our New York State government. As part of the conference student delegates present and debate bills in an effort to get them passed into state law.

Newcomb's YAG Club had several honors and accomplishments.

Eadie Brannon and Lauren Hai were nominated to CONA (Conference on National Affairs). Nominations to CONA are a huge honor due to the small number of delegates that New York can send.

Emily Fifield was nominated as an alternate for CONA.

Emily Fifield, Rowan Hai and Daria Krainova won the "Best Bill Award in Senate Freedom". Our District, District 3, won the "Premiere District" award.

Eadie Brannon, Eldaa Ourdraogo, and Gavin Fifield had their bill passed by both chambers of the legislature and the Governor.

The group had a great time and learned a lot.
